Aadhaar – The Unique Identification Number

In the club meeting on Friday, October 08, 2010 Maj. Gen. Sudesh Kumar (Retd.) was the Guest Speaker who gave an informative talk on Aadhaar-Unique Identification Number. Introducing Major Gen. Sudesh Kumar, PP Rtn. Pallav Mukherjee said he joined NDA in 1958 and was commissioned into the corps of Signals in 1961. Besides, doing BE (Telecom), he also did ME (Computer Engineering). During military service, he served at different levels from providing field communications for the fighting troops in the forward area to planning of integrated communication networks. He has seen action during the Sino-Indian war in 1962, Indo-Pak wars in 1965 and 1971. After his retirement he devotes time towards the social upliftment in his village in Himachal Pradesh.

General Kumar explained about Unique Identification Number. The first set of Multipurpose National Identity Cards (12c digit unique identification number) named as Aadhaar were issued by Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh, Unique Identification Authority of India Chairman Mr. Nandan Nilekani and Congress Chief Mrs Sonia Gandhi on 29th September, 2010.

Unique Identification Authority of India (UIADI) will have its headquarter in Delhi with Dr. Montek Singh Ahluwalia and Mr. Nandan Nilekani heading it. It will have 8 regional offices in metro cities. Its Technical centre will be based in Bangalore. The Guest Speaker explained that every person has unique body parts like thumb impressions, combination of eyes and size of eyeball. UIADI will use palm and eyes as the basis of determining the identity.

The need for this unique number arose to check the cases of impersonation and wrong identity. Recently a Pakistan Spy was living in Chandigarh under the wrong identity of Pawan Kumar and he had his matriculation certificate, passport and ration card with wrong identity.

In Punjab Engineering College, 11 students from Nepal had taken admission with wrong identity. A logical question arises as to the need of this card when we already have many IDs such as passports, PAN cards, Voter I cards etc. The existing IDs are available only for a certain section of society. A vast majority of our people do not have ID, so they do not have access to the privileges and benefits meant for them.

The task before the UIADI is to provide unique number to 120 crores of people and to the everyday adding population which is a huge task. The identification number will help in detecting the fraud identity. It will work like the magnetic strip of ATM card. The critical issues of the programme are hacking, virus, sabotaging of the programme etc.

In lighter vein the General talked about “husbands for sale”. On each floor, the husbands were for sale. No women was allowed to visit the floor second time. 1st floor:- husbands for sale had good job and love for kids. 2nd floor:- Besides the qualities of husbands, they can help in doing household jobs. 3rd floor:- Besides all other qualities, they are romantic.

4th floor:- You are 580030 women who had reached this floor, where there are no husbands for sale. This shows women have tremendous strength and impossible to please!

Maj Gen Sudesh Kumar

Vote of thanks was proposed by Rtn. Maj. Gen. A.S. Kahlon who complimented Gen. Sudesh Kumar for his comprehensive talk. Rtn. RTPS Tulsi narrated a couplet in response to third level of "husbands for sale", mentioned by the Guest Speaker; "Husband: Tu kya chahati hai, mein kya chahata hoon. Mein har do ko yaksha (one) banana chahata hoon. Jo teri raza ho, woh meri raza ho. Mein teri raza mein jiya chahata hoon. Wife: Na teri raza hai, na meri raza hai. Hota hai woh jo manzure khuda hai. Tu apni raza ko bulandi pe le ja, toh Tulsi raza hi razae khuda hai."
